Social Skills

1. Social skills involve communication. Name two different forms of communication and give tips for using them successfully.
2. Write about two social skills that you studied in this book. Tell how you have used them, or how you might use them in the future.
3. Social skills can help a person feel more comfortable in awkward situations. Give an example and tell how this book suggests that you handle the situation.
4. Good manners are always important. However, different situations can call for different manners. Select two situations that require some different manners and create a Venn diagram that illustrates the manners preferred for each.
5. "Good social skills build confidence and confidence builds good social skills." Do you think this is true? Explain your answer.
6. Write the definition of the word "empathy." Tell how having a good understanding of empathy is important in learning good manners.
