 literacy tip:

Make a Book Jar by writing down the titles of different picture books on slips of paper and putting them in a jar. Each day, choose a piece of paper and read that story together. If you have time, reenact a fun scene from the book, like jumping in puddles, baking cookies, or going on a walk.

Spark your child's curiosity by displaying books cover side out around the house.

Curious young readers will love learning fascinating facts about our world from these colorful early learning titles.
