Wednesday – Reflection Prompt

Write a reflective response to the following questions:

1. What are your hopes for the world/our country in the upcoming weeks and months?
2. What is one thing we need to do better at Garry to make sure all students are made to feel included/welcome?
3. What is one thing that Garry does well to make students feel as though they are part of a community?
4. What is something that your teachers/a teacher has done this year to let you know that you are seen/you matter to them?
5. What is something that teachers (feel free to talk about me specifically) need to do better to make you feel as though you are a valuable part of our school?

Your reflection does not have to respond to the questions in order. Some of your responses might mix with each other. I am more interested in what you have to say than your specific format.

- Please email your response to donnw@spokaneschools.org
- Please use the subject – Week 7 Reflection
- Please write your response in the body of the email

Thursday – Brainstorm/organize important events in your life

- Quick write for 5 minutes. Try to write the entire time. List as many important events in your life as possible. Remember, it can be anything important to you. They do not all have to be grandiose events.
- After the five minutes is up, go through your list and put them in chronological order as best you can. Leave a space or two between each item.
- Now go back through and see if there is anything you might have missed and add them in.
- Choose your 10 most important events.

Friday – Symbols for your road map

You will be creating a road map of the journey of your life. Each of your 10 important events will go on your map as a symbol. Those symbols could be things like road signs, rabid dogs, flat tires, weather, objects/places you might see along the way, anything that represents the event. You are also welcome to use creative license with your road map. As long as you are using symbols to represent events in your life, and you are able to tie them together through some sort of visual extended metaphor, it works for me.

Today, you will need to do the following:

1. Come up with a symbol for each event.
2. Create a title for each event
3. Write a 1-3 sentence explanation of how the symbol represents the event.

Monday – Create your Life Road Map

1. Begin to create your Life Road Map. This can be done on poster board, a blank piece of regular paper, or on the computer.
2. Include the symbol and the title on your “map”.
3. Include the explanation on a separate piece of paper or document (you may have already finished this on the last day)
4. You have time scheduled for tomorrow to finish this tomorrow.

Tuesday – Finish your map

1. Finish your map.
2. Take a picture and email it to me.
3. Rejoice!
