Successful audition with director and/or successful completion & participation of either LC Freshmen Band or Symphonic Band. Brass and woodwind instruments only.

WHAT this course is about:

This course is about learning and performing band literature at the highest level. This course will challenge individual musicians in their skills and ensemble playing techniques.

WHY take this course:

To be a part of a hard working, high performing ensemble. This course provides multiple performance opportunities each school year for student musicians to learn, grow, and perform throughout the community and state.

WHAT you'll learn:

Gain individual skills on brass or woodwind instrument. How to play at a high level in a successful performing ensemble.

WHAT you'll do:

Rehearse classic and new band literature to be performed in concerts, festivals, and contests throughout the community and state. Students in this ensemble are the leaders of the LC band program in their musical and leadership skills.

WHERE this could take you:

This ensemble will take you to multiple performance and competitive festivals throughout the school year. This is also a pathway to successful collegiate and honor group music auditions for high school and beyond.
