Fire Drill

We have our first drill this week! The law requires that we practice a wide variety of drills throughout the school year once a month to ensure that students and staff will be prepared and perfect our actions during a real emergency. Drills are hard on everyone as they can be loud, traumatic, and interrupt our learning. After the drill classrooms reflect on how the process went and submit feedback to our safety committee. Because an emergency can happen at any time or an alarm can get pulled anytime it is important to practice a wide range of school day experiences and times. It is also important to practice each month to increase confidence in students and staff on what the drill looks like, feels like and sounds like. I always post the day of the week and type of drill, but the time will vary and always be unannounced. Our hope is that we are never faced with a real situation but if we are, we are prepared, and we have practiced supporting student safety.
