Are you interested in becoming a certified nursing assistant?

Providence Sacred Heart Medical Center is offering a unique opportunity to train as a certified nursing assistant (CNA) while working as a student nursing assistant. If selected for this paid full time position, our program is a combination of work experience, classroom education and clinical training. This training will provide an excellent foundation for a variety of health care roles and specialties.

After completing our program and obtaining your certification, you're eligible to apply for any of our open CNA positions. We offer generous, low-cost benefits for all positions 20 hours per week and above, as well as outstanding potential for personal and career growth.
